Concert Band To Present Final Program

Climax of a successful year for the MSC concert band will be Wednesday evening when members will present their final concert.

The program will include music that varies from the baroque classics to the contemporary style. Selections to be presented are "Athletic Festival March," Serge Prokofieff; "Prelude and Fugue in G Minor," J. S. Bach; "First Military Suite in E. Flat," Gustav Holst; "Celebration Overture," Paul Creston; "Chorale Prelude: So Pure the Star," Vincent Persichetti; "George Washington Bridge," William Schuman, and "Semper Fidelis," John Philip Sousa.

"This band probably plays with the best precision of any band we have had in recent years," commented Ward Bounds, director. "The music they will be playing is certainly the most challenging they have ever tried."

The concert, free to the public, will begin at 8:15 in the Charles Johnson Theater.

Nancy Boyd Elected Book Club President

Miss Nancy Boyd was elected president of Book Club for the coming year at the Apr. 27 meeting, the last meeting of this year.

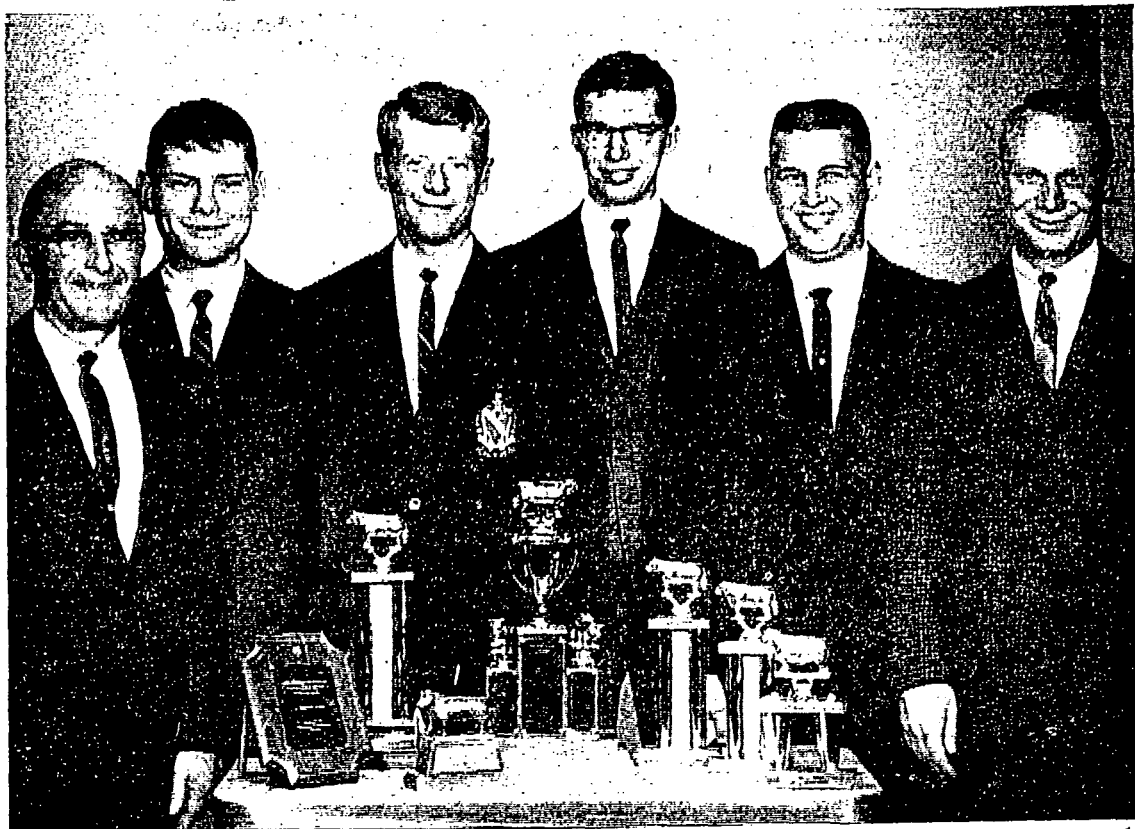

Vice president is Terry Campbell, and secretary-treasurer is Miss Elaine Sherman. Virgil Albertini, instructor in the English Department, is the new sponsor for the club.

After the business of the meeting, Dr. Charles Rivers reviewed the writer Robert Lowell.

from the Greater Kansas City Home Economics Association. She was presented the award, which is given annually to a sophomore or junior from any four-year college in Missouri or Kansas, on the basis of professional interest, scholarship, and need. Miss Mabel Cook, chairman of the MSC Home Economics Department, accompanied Miss Annan to Kansas City, where she received the award at a dinner meeting of the association.

Soil, Livestock, Dairy Teams Win Top Honors at Ohio Contest

BEST IN SHOW was this team of MSC livestock judges at the Saturday Conference held in Wilmington, Ohio. They are, F. B. Houghton Sr., coach; Quentin Combs, first in livestock judging; Richard Dugan, Barry Whitehill, Ronald Allely, fourth ranking, and David Mackey, fifth high livestock judge. All trophies on the table were won at the show. (Second picture on page 2.)

The soils, livestock, and dairy teams from Northwest Missouri State College took top honors in the Southern Dairy, Soils, and Livestock Conference held at Wilmington College, Wilmington, Ohio, Saturday.

The MSC livestock judging team, competing against teams from eight colleges and universities, was the high scoring team of the contest. The F. B. Houghton Sr. coached boys were also the high scoring team in the sheep and beef cattle judging division and had the first, fourth and fifth high scoring individuals in the contest.

Team members included Quentin Combs, who garnered 407 points of a possible 450 for the top score in the contest; Ronald Allely and David Mackey, fourth and fifth high individuals respectively; Richard Dugan and Barry Whitehill.

In the dairy judging, Allely was the high scoring student in the Holstein division.

Accompanying the teams were their coaches, Dr. John Beeks, soils; William Treese, dairy; and F. B. Houghton, livestock.

AAUP Plans Honors Event

Four outstanding students from each of the classes will be honored at 6:30 o'clock tonight at the AAUP Honors Banquet in the Blue Room of the Union Building.

Senior honorees will be Jacqueline Vincent Henningsen, Alice Lynn Maxwell, Otto Allen Newton, and Linda Jean Sweeney. Juniors to be honored are Melanie Gail Eisiminger, Carol Ann Nielsen, Karen Sue Peters, and Sharon Kay Smith.

Sophomore honorees will include Mary Ellen Hornecker, Ruth Ann Kennedy, Mary Alice Lumm, and Martin Lawrence Peterson. The freshmen to be cited are Marilyn Kay Bowland, Marcia Maurine Hensleigh, Linda Gayle Martin, Marilynn Wieneke, and Marilyn Kay Wood.

Mrs. Louise R. Hassenplug, president of NWMSC chapter, will preside at the banquet. The invocation will be given by James R. Saucerman, Dr. Elwyn K. DeVore will introduce the honorees, and James A. Hurst will introduce the speaker, James DeMarce, who will speak on "Opportunities for Experience Abroad."

The planning committee for the banquet is composed of Miss Mary Jackson and Mrs. Mary Jane Sunkel, co-chairmen; Mrs. Virginia DeMarce, Miss Lois Loveland, Miss Eleanor Miller, Mrs. Paula Nelson, Frank Grispio, and Frank Mannasmith.

Home Economics Students Get Scholarship Awards for 1966

Two MSC coeds, Miss Mari-beth Annan, Coin, Iowa, and Miss Melanie Eisiminger, Amazonia, recently received scholarship awards for their outstanding work in the field of home economics.

Miss Annan, a sophomore, received a $300 scholarship companied Miss Annan to Kansas City, where she received the award at a dinner meeting of the association.

A member of Kappa Omicron Phi, Miss Annan has been selected chairman of the college chapter of American Home Economics Association for the 1966-67 school year. She is also a pledge to Kappa Delta Pi, national education society.

Miss Eisiminger was awarded the Missouri Home Economics Association scholarship which is given annually to an outstanding junior majoring in home economics in a Missouri college or university. Two $300 scholarships were awarded at

Best-Dressed Named In Glamour Contest

"Glamour" magazine has recently announced the winners and honorable mention winners of the annual "Ten Best Dressed College Girls" contest.

In the 1966 competition 350 colleges and universities were represented. Miss Georgia Young was MSC's entrant in the contest.

Missouri received an honorable mention for its candidate, Miss Gail Raymond from Central Methodist College in Fayette.

the Missouri-Kansas Home Economics Spring Conference held in Kansas City.

Miss Eisiminger is serving as state chairman of the college chapters of MHEA during the 1965-66 year. In this capacity, she presided over the college chapters' meetings at the conference.

During her college career, Miss Eisiminger has been co-recipient of the Marie Huff Freshman Scholarship Award, recipient of merit scholarships, chairman of the college chapter of MHEA at MSC, and vice-chairman of the state college chapter. She is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, and Piano Repertoire.

Catholic Youth Center to Be Blessed Sunday By Bishop Charles Helmsing

The highlight of the dedication of the new Catholic student center will be a short blessing of the house by Bishop Charles H. Helmsing of the Diocese of Kansas City and St. Joseph.

Following the ceremony at 1 p. m. Sunday, there will be an open house coffee. The property, purchased from the James E. Wells family in the fall of 1964, is still in the process of being adapted for its new use.

Presently, a chapel, counciling room area, and study have been finished and are in use. By next spring there also should be a kitchen, library, and recreation area, according to the Rev. James H. Crafton, assigned to Maryville as assistant pastor of St. Gregory's Church and as the Catholic campus minister.

Father Crafton explained that the new facility has many purposes: "First of all, the chapel will be used in the sacrifice of the mass. Some religious education classes will be at the center, and the library will be primarily devoted to theology and philosophy.

"Eventually there will be a permanent chaplain living there. Presently Mr. and Mrs. Richard Peterson reside in the house and serve as custodians of the student center," the priest said.

Father Crafton, who is a native of St. Joseph, was graduated from Conception Seminary and was ordained last June in Louvain, Belgium. He holds a Master's degree in religious education.

Officers for the Newman Club for the second semester are W. R. O'Riley, president; Becky Sue Niewald, vice president; Teresa Riley, secretary, and Leonard Archer, treasurer.

Members Receive Awards At Agriculture Club Banquet

R. M. (Rick) Thompson, industrial relations manager of Swift and Company, St. Joseph, was the speaker at the Agriculture Club Award Banquet Thursday evening.

Mr. Thompson came to the St. Joseph plant last October from Des Moines, Iowa, where he was industrial relations manager of Iowa Packing Company, a division of Swift and Company.

Approximately 85 people were on hand to hear Thompson. Guests of the Ag Club included fathers of the members, Chamber of Commerce officials, college administrators, and area 4-H and FFA students that have done outstanding work in scholastic work and in livestock judging.

Awards which were presented included the Reeds Seed of Chillicothe award presented to the outstanding freshman majoring in agriculture; Schrieber Mills award, to the outstanding upper classman majoring in agriculture; Houghton Livestock Judging Award, to the student with the most points accumulated during the school year; Consumers Co-Op of the area, and Nodaway Valley Bank, Maryville, awards to high ranking students in livestock judging. Winners of these awards will be announced in the next Missourian.

The club president is David Mackey, and the adviser is F. B. Houghton, Sr.

Service Groups Have Soiree Spring Formal

The Gamma Sigma Sigma, Alpha Phi Omega spring formal was held Saturday evening in the Blue Room of the Union Building.

The theme of the dance was Soiree. The Dave Taylor band played for the occasion at which Miss Sharon Engle was chosen queen, and Soren Sorensen, king.

Chaperones included Mr. and Mrs. James Saucerman, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nagel, Mr. and Mrs. Myrl Long, and Mrs. Dorothy Walker. Several guests attended the formal dance.

Holstein Judge Gets Trophy

DAIRY JUDGING was Ronald Maxwell's forte when he was top ranking Holstein judge at the Wilmington, Ohio, College Conference. His coach, William Treese, is congratulating him.

Nancy Boyd Wins Poetry Awards

Nancy Boyd, MSC junior, has been notified that two of five poems that she submitted to This Day will appear in a forthcoming issue of the family magazine.

For her two poems entitled "On Values" and "Thoughts Upon Propensity Toward an Iconoclast," Miss Boyd will receive an award. The Christian Student Writing program is conducted by Concordia Publishing House, St. Louis.

The editor commented on Miss Boyd's work, "We were impressed with your ability, and we want to encourage you to continue developing your talent."

IMB Director Attends National Convention

Luke L. Boone, director of the Instructional Materials Bureau, recently attended the annual national convention of the Department of Audiovisual Instruction held in San Diego, Calif.

The highlights of the meeting were the exhibits of about 330 educational media companies. The theme of the convention was "Guidelines for Action: 1966-70."

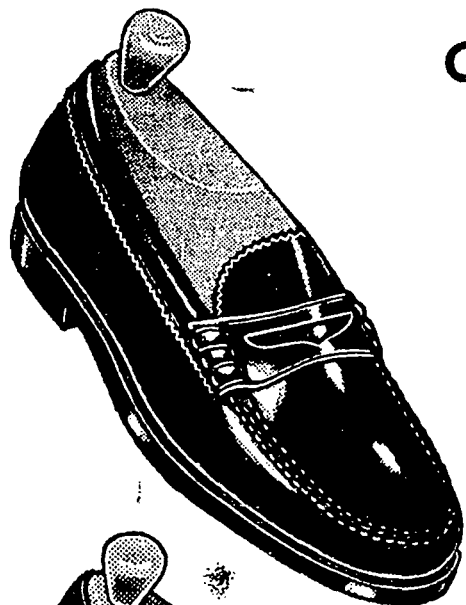

Tri Sigma Honors Founders at Banquet

"Now Is the Hour" was the theme for Sigma Sigma Sigma's Founder's Day Banquet held Apr. 23, at Armstrong's.

During the evening, recognition was given to members for many outstanding achievements made both individually and as a group. One of the most memorable toasts of the evening came with the toast to the Chapter Omega, "Hours into Eternity," given by Mrs. John Schrier. During this ceremony a candle was lighted in memory of Alpha Epsilon's beloved founder and collegiate financial adviser, Mrs. Lula Mae Curman Sheetz.

Miss Gayle Bradfield was hailed as the 1966-67 Miss Maryville. A toast was given to the new National Headquarters building, purchased in 1964 and located at Woodstock, Va. The latter citations were made by the past president and toastmistress for the evening, Miss Ann Shamberger. Presentation of the national awards was given by Miss Neva Ross, sponsor of the sorority.

Joining with the 60 girls in their celebration of Sigma's 68th birthday were 115 parent alumnae, patronesses, and invited guests. Miss Eileen Leppour was overall chairman of the Founder's Day event.

THE STROLLER

... Ye Olde Stroller recently talked with a certain Mrs. Flick who wanted to thank a Tri Sig for her purchase of three delicious cookies. What Mrs. Flick did not know was that the Tri Sig was chicken to eat more than one of them.

... Warning! Stay away from the biology department. Instructor David Easterla brought in 18 live rattlesnakes that he captured on a field trip. Really, though, they are darling little creatures — completely harmless.

... Who was that girl in pigtailed swimming around in the Nodaway River? And how did she get there? That's what the Stroller would like to know.

... It's bad that several MSC boys have to report for Selective Service physicals May 23 and 24. That's exam week!

... Now for a stupid question: Ever notice how hard it is to call Hudson Hall? Four telephones for all those girls just aren't enough. Why not have more?

... The Stroller offers this advice on driving. The greatest percentage of automobile accidents in this area occur between 4 p. m. and 5 p. m. on Saturdays with men between the ages of 17 and 20. Maybe it would be better to stay off the roads during that time.

Scientists Address Area High Schools

Members of the Science Division have been active in the Visiting Scientist Program sponsored by the Missouri Academy of Science and the University of Missouri.

Under this program, scientists from private industry, hospitals, government agencies, and universities and colleges visit secondary schools in the State of Missouri. They speak on special fields of science with the students at no cost to the secondary school, as the program is financed by a National Science Foundation grant.

Members of the Science Division who have made visits this year are Dr. Sam Carpenter, who has visited Westport High School, Kansas City, and Grant City High School; Dr. Edward L. Farquhar, who has visited Mound City High

Union Board to Co-Sponsor Mozart Opera

This is a scene from the Kansas City Lyric Theater's performance of Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro" to be presented Thursday at Northwest Missouri State College Auditorium under the sponsorship of the Union Board.

The Missouri State Council of the Arts, which assists organizations in bringing professional opera to their cities, reported a fine turnout at the Kansas City Philharmonic concert held at NWMSC Nov. 19 of last year. The greatest number to attend any cultural event in Maryville's history, 1,800 persons, were present at the concert.

Members of the Union Board are hoping for a large audience for the opera presentation. Reserved seats may be secured on the advance ticket.

Physics Professor To Visit Campus

Dr. Andrew Gold, professor of physics at Iowa State University, will visit the campus here next week under the Visiting Scientist Program in Physics sponsored by the American Institute of Physics.

Beginning at 8 Monday, in the Horace Mann Auditorium, Doctor Gold will present a lecture on "Making Order Out of Chaos: Fascinating Properties of Solids at Low Temperatures." His lecture will be supplemented with some rather spectacular demonstrations. All interested students and faculty are invited to attend.

Tuesday, Doctor Gold will lecture in physics and chemistry classes.

At 10 a.m. Tuesday, Doctor Gold will discuss graduate programs in physics with advanced students in Room 101 Administration Building. At 1 p.m. he will lecture on "Research in Solid State Physics" Room 207, Administration Building.

KCRCHE Delegates Discuss Orientation Programs, Plans

Delegates to the Kansas City Regional Council for Higher Education Student Committee discussed orientation when they met Apr. 27 at St. Mary College, Xavier, Kas.

MSC representatives who, also comprise the new freshman orientation committee, were Diana Brown, Rosanne Bartlett, and Bob Bosch. Charles E. Koerble, dean of students, and Miss Karen Licklider, dean of women, attended a meeting of the deans of students committee.

In addition to exchanging orientation materials and student handbooks with the other schools, delegates also exchanged ideas. Some of them follow:

... The "big sister - little sister" and "big brother-little brother" programs is effective on some campuses, especially where they are all-girl, all-boy colleges. In one school the big sister has two little "twin sisters," who live on and off campus, respectively. The off-campus coed participates just like the campus dweller and eventually spends a night in the dormitory. At many schools the big and little sisters correspond during the summer.

... The intellectual side of college life is often overshadowed by the social orientation. Some schools ask entering freshmen to read some book on higher education, e. g., a controversial one or a text on the theory of education. Discussion of these books and ideas may take place during freshman orientation.

At one school a nationally prominent and challenging speaker addresses the freshman class on the values of higher education or some similar subject. (Perhaps if MSC gave such an exciting introduction to the intellectual side, more students would take advantage of the cultural presentations which are brought to the campus.)

In some of the smaller schools, freshmen and upperclassmen participate in panel discussions or semi-formal bull sessions on controversial subjects. (It has been suggested that MSC could use this mental and social stimulus at the floor meeting level.) Some schools follow the presentation of controversial movies like "La Dolce Vita" with such discussions.

... After orientation ends, freshmen write in their English classes a theme in reaction to orientation. Other schools conduct surveys of both students and faculty.

... Some schools do not separate the freshmen from the other students in housing facilities in order to avoid too much class distinction, to make the freshmen feel more accepted, to make more available the advice and assistance of upperclassmen to freshmen.

... In two colleges, the freshmen present a talent show in October or November. In another school they sponsor the Christmas dance. Merchants in one college town donate melons for a watermelon feed for the freshman class. They also post signs saying such things as "Welcome, Frosh!" Many schools have some sort of orientation picnic.

... One school has a Social

Cheerleader Candidates Required to Register

All college students, wishing to try out for a position on the varsity cheerleading staff must register by noon next Friday in the Registrar's office.

Tryouts will be conducted in the Martindale Gymnasium at 5 p. m. that afternoon. Representatives of each organization on campus and the two graduating cheerleaders, Marcy Severson and Celia Thompson, will have voting rights in the selections.

Action program, in which students babysit, tutor, participate in Project Head Start. For this service they receive laboratory experience credit for such classes as sociology.

KCRCHE delegates concluded the meeting with a discussion of the possibility of holding a 3-day meeting in the Ozarks next year. Dean E. Tollefson, associate director of KRCHE, reported that there are funds available for such a seminar including funds to present nationally prominent speakers at the event.

In an attempt to meet individual needs, some of the seventh grade students at Horace Mann are encouraged by their mathematics teacher, Don Hefner, to make their own assignments.

Usually these assignments, selected by the students themselves, consist of reviews and drills. Mr. Hefner remarked that frequently these students choose to tackle more work than he would have assigned to them.

In the 55 minute period designated for mathematics, the students commonly spend about one-half of the time working on their assignments and the other half in learning new ideas in modern math.

"This method incorporates several ideas for operating mathematics classes," stated Mr. Hefner.

The charts in the background of the accompanying picture show the work which the students do in the regular classroom learning periods.

Will Northwest State's Dreams For Health Center Materialize?

By Sally Jackson

As building after building rises skyward on the MSC campus, perhaps one may begin to note the absence of what many university planners would deem a "necessary facility," namely, a student health center.

Presently, ill students are accommodated at the health office located in Lamkin Gymnasium. However, as the number of students enrolled increases with the new expansions, campuswide, the average number of patients will likely continue to rise also.

The staff of four registered nurses, under the direction of Miss Helen O'Connor, estimates the number of patients at "about 40-60 a day." The variety of afflictions ranges from upper respiratory infections (colds) to sprained ankles. When any more serious case arises, the individual is sent immediately to a local physician.

According to Miss O'Connor, excuses are no longer issued for absences from classes, with the exception of physical education, where the reason may be deemed sufficient for the person to be exempted from participation.

"The students are still expected to report to this office at the time of their illness," the health director explained, "so that instructors may then call here for verification of a reported illness."

But since there is no bed-care service available, ill students must remain either in their dorm or at home, subjecting others to exposure in the case of infectious conditions. Patients who require hospitalization are placed in the St. Francis Hospital in Maryville only upon the order of an attending physician.

"We are very much in need of an infirmary for those who are not sick enough to be hospitalized but who are too ill to attend classes," Miss O'Connor said.

She told of several cases in which the patient was hospitalized, and therefore could not attend classes. Had there been an infirmary facility, the patient could likely have been cared for by the school nurses and yet still have been able to attend some classes.

At the present facility there is no resident physician. Dr. B. F. Byland is the college referral physician who cares for athletic injuries. He and other local M.D.s provide information to the health office staff. Any student who is ill or injured and who does not have a preference from among the local doctors is referred to the physician who is on-call at the time of the affliction.

Of course, the ideal situation would be for the health staff to be housed in a separate building with food and bed care service. A resident physician or system of alternating attending physicians with nurses on duty at all times would add to the ideal picture.

"Mrs. Forest Steele, Miss Pearl Dawson, and I alternate in the office from 8 a. m. until 8 p. m., with the exception of the noon-hour and dinner-time from 5 to 6 p. m. Miss Dawson is on-call at Horace Mann during the noon period, and Mrs. Richard Johnson is on duty at McCracken Hall from 8 p. m. until 7:30 a. m. From 7:30 a. m. until 10 a. m. Mrs. Steele is in her office at Roberta Hall. And on the weekends on-call duty is alternated among the four of us," Miss O'Connor stated.

Perhaps an infirmary does lie in the near future for MSC. According to President Robert Foster, "We have requested an infirmary in our 10-year-building program begun in 1964. This request was made before the Committee on Higher Education in Jefferson City."

He explained that the proposed facility, including only fixed equipment, has been estimated to cost $165,000. This modern building would be composed of an emergency treatment room, lobby, office, reception area, examination room, small kitchen and dining room, laundry room, and a storage area. In addition, there would be a resident nurse's quarters and men's and women's wards.

"We hope it will accommodate isolation patients as well as general bed-care cases," Dr. Foster said.

When asked why the present suite of rooms in the health office could not be transformed into bed-care accommodations, the president explained that certain regulations in the state health laws forbid any such transformation.

A date when the proposed facility could be built depends upon the Missouri Legislature's approval. According to MSC business manager, Luther Belcher, the state has more requests for capital improvement than it has funds.

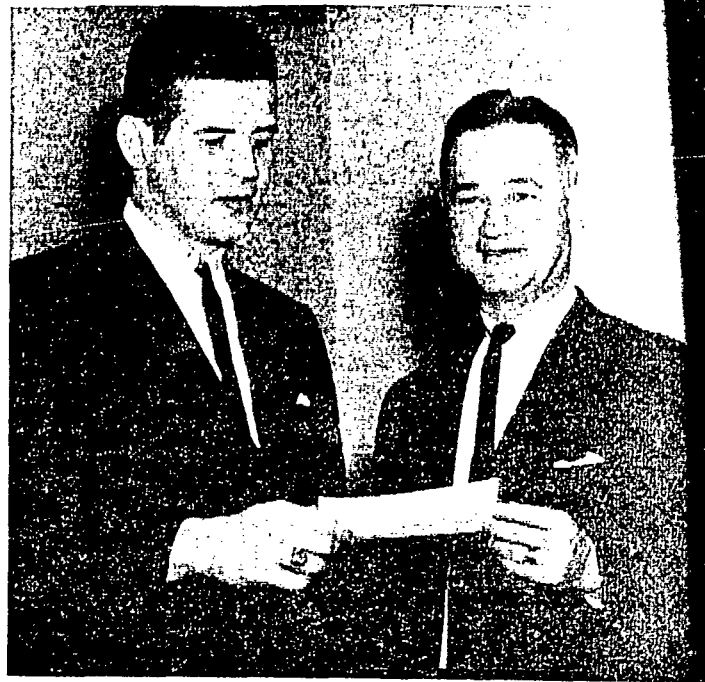

Mr. Belcher agreed that "it would be an economical, practical advantage" to have a campus facility of this type. He also said it would provide better service to the students and faculty.

In the past many ideas have been offered as a solution to what may some day be a difficult problem of health care. Former MSC president, Dr. J. W. Jones mentioned that at one time the basement of Roberta Hall was considered for an infirmary. He said this plan "just never developed."

Projected enrollment figures estimate nearly 7,000 students will be at MSC by 1975. This figure is more than double the college population in 1965.

As the high-rise dormitories continue to dot the campus scene, perhaps within a few years another needed building will be added to the landscape. Although it will probably be a one-level structure, the infirmary will take its respected place along side the sky-reaching buildings for housing and education.

Interpretation Class To Present 'Oedipus' In Little Theater

A reader's theatre production of Sophocles' "Oedipus the King" will be presented by the Speech 172, advanced interpretation, class at 6:30 p. m. May 13 in the Little Theatre of the Administration Building.

"Oedipus the King" was first produced in the 427 B. C. decade when Sophocles was approximately 65 years old. It was presented at the Greek festival known as City Dionysia, held annually at Athens in the spring of the year. In contrast with the interpretation class presentation, the theater of Dionysus was open to the sky and was ritualistic.

Sophocles' style of writing introduced the use of three principal actors rather than two and managed to make character and dramatic action interdependent.

The play is under the direction of Dr. Ralph E. Fulsom, chairman of the Speech and Drama Department. Cast members include Tom LaVillie and Ron Wineinger, Oedipus; Phyllis Zwank, priest; John Robertson, Creon; Lois Garreau, Teiresias; Marjorie Hitchcock, Jocasta; Joe Maltsberger, messenger; Gail Halliday; Diana Jansen, servant. Members of the chorus are Cheryl Reineke, Carol Sinclair, and Sara Copland.

Audiovisual Association To Hear Radio Sponsor

Miss Mary Jo Sedletzeck, sponsor of KDLX Radio at Northwest Missouri State College, will be the guest speaker at the Monday meeting of the Audiovisual Association.

Miss Sedletzeck will discuss "Campus Broadcasting Via Carrier Current System" at the association's regular monthly meeting. A tour of the facilities of KDLX will follow the meeting.

Norvel Saylor to Give European Travel Talk To People to People

Norvel Saylor, Maryville businessman and former MSC instructor, will present a program on his European travels Monday at the meeting of the MSC People-to-People Chapter.

The meeting will be held at 7 p. m. in the Rose Room of the Union Building. Robert Curry, assistant director of university affairs, People-to-People headquarters, Kansas City, will present the charter to the organization and pins to the national members. Special music will be provided by the international students on campus.

All interested students and faculty members are invited to attend the meeting.

Newly elected officers for the 1966-67 year include Elaine Sherman, president; Meredith Gearstad, vice-president; Elaine Murray, secretary-treasurer; Ronda Kelly, corresponding secretary; and Anne Morgan, program chairman.

Would you believe APATHY?

APATHY is an organization intent on destroying and aborting institutions and ideas. It's like a disease, which possesses weak and tired and lazy minds. In a way, it's nothingism. In essence, it's "Let George do it."

Agents of CONCERN, however, are fighting APATHY. They're people like the Georges, Allans, and Marjories who comprise the Wesley Foundation. They recently held a blood drive, a successful one. They came within one-half per cent of the Red Cross goal of 200 pints. They organized the bleed-in better than did any other school in Nebraska, Iowa, and Missouri north of Kansas City, according to the bloodmobile head nurse.

So what?

So what if 305 had appointments and 204 showed up? So what if 45 people walked in? So what if approximately three out of every five donators were girls? So what if the Foundation plans on a two-day bleed-in next year? And so what if a former college student — he might have gone to MSC — dies on a rainy rice paddy in Viet Nam for lack of blood?

So what kind of world would this be if there weren't at least 249 CONCERNED people? That's what.

Chimes Enhance Beauty of Campus

Alive with the sound of music is our campus and pleasing to the heart is the sound of bells, bells that bring a joy with the passing of an hour, a remembrance of a forgotten thrill, an awakening of a drowsy desire, bells whose tone is ringing the clearness of a lovely dream.

On the day when the idea of bells was new to our minds, on our lips was a question: Is it necessary? I asked this question. I listen now to the music and answer myself affirmatively. And I ask another question: How did any student realize the depth of beauty that exists on the campus of Northwest

Missouri State until there were bells?

No ordinary bells are these, but great carillon chimes whose notes have echoed through centuries in the ears of historic peoples in the greatest landmarks the world has known. From campaniles on larger campuses than ours such chimes long have been sounding. That ours should be so graced is cause for pride.

Bleed-In Chairman Thanks Cooperators

Dear Editor:

THANKS A LOT!! This is what I want to say to everyone that made the Bleed-In Apr. 23 a success. It is impossible to thank personally every student, faculty member, and administrator that helped, so I have picked this method to thank them. Special thanks go to the organizations of the campus that co-operated in the planning and the work. I wish, also, to thank the citizens of Maryville that volunteered their time, services, and money.

One very important thing this Bleed-In has done is that it has made a crack in the apathy that seems to surround most students on our campus. As I said, this is only a crack in the unconcern of the students, and it can easily be forgotten if new blows against apathy are not applied. I hope everyone will think about this and then decide to take action to remove this shell of apathy.

gestions from the Senate for improving Freshman Orientation. Bosch, Dianne Brown, and Rosie Bartlett are working with Dean Koerble to attempt to set up a better orientation program. (These ideas were taken to the KRCHE conference which was held on April 27 at St. Mary's College in Xaview, Kas.)

President Erganian suggested that the Senate meet at an earlier time during the next two weeks because of other activities and engagements.

Kack Miller made a report from the Union Board. The consensus was that Walk-Out Day was quite successful considering the weather.

President Erganian suggested that the Senate work on revising the constitution. Jim Beemer, who is chairman of the Constitution Revision Committee, will make a report at the next meeting.

Stars to Bolster 'Cat Cagers In Western, Home Schedule

Ron Howitt, Jim Vollmuth, and Al VanDyke, who were high scoring basketball players this year, will return to lead Maryville through the 1966-67 season, which will start with a western series.

Also back will be freshman guard Roger Nelson, who started part time, Mike Simon, and Bob Tonnies. Coach Dick Buckridge and assistant coach Bob Iglehart have been doing quite a lot of scouting of outstanding high school and junior college prospects since the close of the season. They are looking for a rugged center and a spark-plug guard to direct the attack.

Audubon Club Plans Trip to Squaw Creek

Members of the Maryville Audubon Club will take their last field trip of the season Sunday to the national Squaw Creek Wildlife Refuge near Mound City.

The club hopes to see the peak of the migration of shore and water birds, according to David Easterla, MSC biology instructor.

Members will leave from the south parking lot of the Olive DeLuce Fine Arts Building at 7:15 a. m. Transportation will be furnished. Anyone wishing to attend is asked to bring binoculars and a sack lunch.

California road trip will be one of the highlights of the 1966-67 Northwest State College basketball schedule. The Bearcat coaches hope to recruit at least four or five additional players capable of helping the varsity next season.

The home games include Pittsburg, Kas., State, Dec. 6; Northwestern College, Dec. 9; Northeast Missouri State, Dec. 20; William Jewell, Jan. 3; Peru, Nebraska State, Jan. 12; Rolla, Jan. 28; Southeast Missouri State, Jan. 30; Central Missouri State, Feb. 11; Southwest Missouri State, Feb. 13; and Washburn University, Feb. 17, as the last game.

Among the away games will be Southern California College, Dec. 1; San Diego State College, Dec. 2; Southern California College, Dec. 3; Pittsburg, Kas., State, Dec. 12; Washburn University, Dec. 13; William Jewell College, Dec. 17; Nebraska City Invitational, Dec. 29-30; Missouri University, Jan. 7; Southeast Missouri State, Jan. 9; Northeast Missouri State, Jan. 14; Central Missouri State, Feb. 4; Southwest Missouri State, Feb. 6.

Bearcat Sluggers Hitting Better

Play ball! . . . That is just what the MSC baseball team is doing, according to Dr. Burton Richey, chairman of the Division of Physical Education.

Doctor Richey stated that the team continues to show improvement at all positions. In last week's Missourian, Coach Richey pointed out that the team needed some work in hitting. Now, after the Nebraska Wesleyan, Lincoln game, it seems that the team took the doctor's advice. They connected with 24 of 64 pitches, increasing their average from .184 to .333.

In the Nebraska game this week, the sluggers followed the pitching of Vic Mitchell to victory.

The Bearcats will meet Parsons College, Fairfield, Iowa, today. Then they will have only three additional games, with their last opponent to be Peru, Neb., on May 11.

I. A. Students Tour Kansas City Firms

Sixty - three industrial arts students took a field trip to Kansas City last Wednesday under the sponsorship of the Industrial Arts Club.

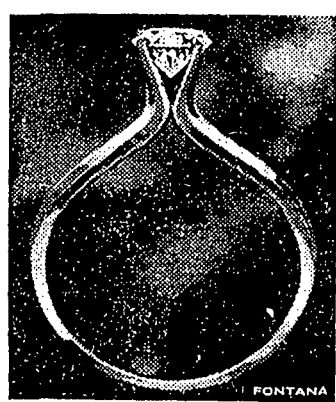

The students composed two groups, one of which took a tour of the General Motor Assembly Plant and Hallmark cards. They were accompanied by Kenneth Thompson and Dr. Peter Jackson.

The other group toured the Trans - World Airlines overhaul base and the Commerce Trust Building. They were accompanied by Howard Ringold and David Crozier.

TKE Pledge Members Hike 50 Miles for United Fund

Tired but jubilant, several members of the Tau Kappa Epsilon pledge class show off one of their signs and their thermometer after making their 50-mile walk from St. Joseph to Maryville. The community project was done for the Nodaway County United Fund Drive.

Some TKE actives took the pledges dry clothes Saturday. Twenty of 31 pledges began the walk, and 18 of the 20 finished it. The group completed the hike in 19 hours; during 10 of these hours, the pledges slushed through the rain.

Dr. James Lowe, coordinator of the United Campaign Drive for Nodaway County, met the group as they arrived at city hall and awarded them a citation of merit from the town of Maryville and also praised their efforts on behalf of the United Fund.

The fund raising drive was also a part of the Teke "Public Service Weekend" program, initiated by the chapter's international headquarters as a new policy to be practiced yearly by the fraternity. Members of the pledge class also have expressed the wish to let it be known that their actions were completely voluntary.

Water Polo Club Loses Dual, Wins First in AAU Tourney

Organized last fall, although postponing activities until his spring, the MSC Water Polo Club got back into action with a dual meet and a tourney last month.

The dual meet, which was with Des Moines Tech High School, shaped up as a grudge match, with four out of five of the club members being Tech graduates. Unfortunately for the MSC squad, the Tech team squeezed out a 10-8 overtime victory.

The Water Polo club earned its first victory over St. Boniface of Manitoba, Canada, in the opening round of the North Central States AAU Water Polo Tourney in Des Moines. Teams from Omaha, St. Louis, and Davenport also competed in the meet. The MSC club managed to place two men, Jon Eichelis and Mark Thomas, on the 11-man all-tourney team.

Invited to play Omaha in a dual meet this spring, the club found it was not possible to arrange a weekend for the match. The members hope to postpone the invitation until fall.

The team's only other meet was with the Des Moines YMCA last semester. It ended in a 9-8 setback for the Bearcats, despite a four-point fourth quarter rally.

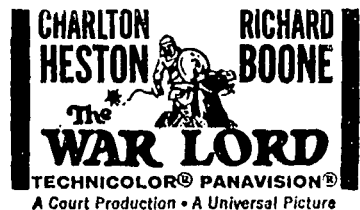

Coach - team captain Ed Smith, senior, complimented the play of novice goalie Guy Fogel, who performed well in his first season of water polo. The club's other starter is Randy Hanson.
